

Substitute Teacher Contract

Our own happiness can be affected by how well we treat others.

- You are expected to behave for a substitute teacher as you would with your regular classroom teacher.
- You will be referred to the assistant principal if your name is left as a result of inappropriate behavior, and you will receive a minimum of one detention.
- You will be referred to the assistant principal if you are removed from class, and you will receive a minimum of two detentions.
- You are expected to complete all classwork that is assigned.
- Unless otherwise specifically stated, whatever is not finished within the class period must be finished for homework. Even if the substitute teacher does not remind you, you are expected to complete all work.
- Unless the substitute teacher collects an assignment from the entire class, do not hand in any assignments to them. If you owe your absent teacher any work, do not give it to the substitute teacher. You will not be penalized an additional day due to your teacher's absence. Give it to your teacher when she returns to school.
- If you complete your work before the end of the class period, you are expected to read quietly until the end of class.
